In keeping with good storage and hygiene practices, Newrax (K) Limited controls a wide range of pests including the resistant and persistent one in various environments. Putting up a pest elimination program

The target pests include, but not limited to, cockroaches, rodents, snakes bats, bed bugs, fleas, termites, flies, crickets, weevils, black ants, safari ants, and any other unwanted crawling or flying insects.

Areas of target include among others-;

1. Hotels, Restaurants and supermarkets
2. Industries, Go-downs and Warehouses

Quality Never Goes Out O/ Style

3. Institutions, recreation halls, and Residential premises.
4. Containers, Wagons and Trucks.
5. Real estate pest control.

6. Pre Versus post Construction termite control
7. Wool mothproofing
8. Soil/Flori Pest Control

Pest Control

In order to make the human, pet, livestock and wildlife environment habitable, to prevent disease spread and occurrence and to protect damage to food and property, Newrax (K) Limited provides professional and effective pest control services.

This is done by baiting, application of repellents and eradication treatment against insect pests such as Termites, cockroaches, sugar ants, Bedbugs, mites, woodworms, white flies, mosquitoes, silver fish, fumigation against weevils in silos, stores and other facilities, baiting against rats, mice and moles, snakes control, treatment of pet and livestock housing against pests.

Benefit

The benefit from our services is freedom from the following problems associated with pests.

I. Pests are offensive

Pests are very offensive. Most people on seeing them become very uncomfortable and some get nauseated.

II. Pests transmit diseases

These include plague, histoplasmosis, Leprosy, Asthma, Chaga's disease, relapsing fever, pasterellapseudotuberculosis, dermatomycoses, listeriosis, leptospirosis, salmonella typhimurium, and, and various forms of encephalitis.

Mosquitoes can transmit malaria and yellow fever. They also lead to disturbances at work.

Cockroaches and sugar ants transmit serious gastrointestinal diseases like dysentery and typhoid while moths destroy fabrics.

For livestock and wildlife some many diseases are vector borne. These include East Coast Fever, Tripanosomiasis and Elephantiasis

III. Pests can bite

Pests like mosquitoes, rats and bats have painful bites and cause serious injuries. The resulting wounds when infected can result in gangrene, tetanus or blood poisoning. The bites of some insects can trigger life threatening allergic reactions

IV. Pests carry parasites

Rats, mice and bats carry parasites in their body. These include, parasitic flies, mites, soft ticks, and fleas some of which attack people and pets.

V. Pests cause destruction to property

Pests cause significant damage to property. Rats and mice destroy property by chewing. They can also start fires by chewing on electric cables. Moths destroy fabrics.

Quality Never Goes Out O/ Style

Newrax (K) Limited recommends regular treatment against these pests with a dramatic difference. The treatments will be done professionally and with health, safety and environmental concerns high on the agenda.

With the treatment that Newrax (K) Limited will offer, the pest populations will be controlled significantly.

Newrax (K) Limited will also give a Certificate of Treatment and regular advice on other day to day methods that the staff can employ to discourage the pest populations from rising.

The regular treatment is because the pests will avoid old and contaminated baits. The mode of action of the chemicals in the bait will also be rotated in every treatment so as to eliminate the members of the pest population that are resistant to a certain mode of action of a chemical.

Mosquitoes will often repopulate the dark areas of the facility and will too require regular treatments. It is also difficult to exclude their entry into the facility. This being the case, their resting areas will be treated with non-staining, odourless and safe chemicals.

We ensure that the services we provide are timely and are of high quality. We are also available for any discussion with our clients at all times to discuss and follow up on any developments that arise in the course of working with them.

We also send our qualified technicians regularly to continually scout and keep track of any changes in populations and pest movement patterns.

Insects

Insects can transmit diseases to man, pets and livestock; they also lead to painful bites. The bites of some insects can trigger life threatening allergic reactions. Newrax (K) Limited provide the baiting for, application of repellents and treatment against insects like; cockroaches, houseflies and blue flies, mosquitoes, bees and wasps, spiders, bedbugs, fleas, sugar ants, termites (Pre construction and post construction treatment against termites), woodworms, bees, weevils, rats and mice, snakes, fumigation of cereals and dry foodstuffs, treatment of pet and livestock housing against pests.

We have been providing fumigation services throughout Kenya for almost 5 years. As a Registered Organization, we provide on-going training to our pest control technicians enabling them to provide the most efficient fumigation and pest control service, whenever you need it.

Fumigation is recognized as an effective means of targeted control of Stored Product Insects (SPIs) such as beetles, weevils, mites and moths.

It can safeguard businesses such as shipping and cargo, manufacturing, warehousing, milling and agriculture. Shipping and cargo fumigation treatments can control infestations of bulk consignments at sea, and in port. This ensures that shipments are transported safely and without risk of contamination.
